Waste Management operates in a highly regulated environment. In the U.S., the agencies that regulate our business include the Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Transportation, Internal Revenue Service, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Department of Labor, and the Securities and Exchange Commission, plus many other federal, state, and local agencies. In Canada, we are similarly regulated. No consultant, contractor or supplier may make a political contribution on behalf of Waste Management. Any political contribution by a consultant, contractor or supplier that gives the appearance of being directly or indirectly associated with Waste Management business is prohibited. A "political contribution" is any direct or indirect payment, distribution, subscription, loan, advance, deposit, or gift of money, services, or anything of value to a government official or employee, or a person running for an elected office, or in connection with an election, or to an organization or group formed to support or defeat a referendum or ballot issue.

There are certain U.S. and local laws that govern our activities in international markets. It is important that any individual conducting business abroad be familiar with these laws and comply fully with them, including the United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act ("FCPA"), the U.K. Anti-Bribery Act, as well as all local laws related to bribery and corruption in those countries in which we are doing and pursuing business. The FCPA is intended to prevent bribery of foreign officials by American companies and their foreign subsidiaries. The U.K. Anti-Bribery Act is even broader in scope and applies to the payment or receipt of a bribe. The FCPA and Company policy prohibit payments (including cash or anything of value, such as gifts or services) either directly or indirectly or through a third party to foreign officials for the purpose of obtaining or maintaining business or favorable government action. Waste Management has adopted an Anti-Bribery and Corruption policy, and established an FCPA Compliance Committee. In conjunction with performing any services on behalf of Waste Management, the Company expects all its consultants, contractors and suppliers to comply with all aspects of these laws or any other applicable laws.
